THE ELECTION RETURNS.

Not only our own people, but the country at large, will look for the election returns, this year, with more anxiety than ever before. We wish to do our part in satisfying that anxiety. But to do it we must depend upon some active friend in each township to forward the returns to his township to us, either Tuesday evening, or as early Wednesday morning as he can be done. Will not some one do it? We shall make arrangements to get the returns from abroad—as well from Pennsylvania and Indiana as from our own State and Congressional district—at the earliest hour practicable, so that our friends from the country, at the same time that they give us the result in their respective townships, can learn the general result. Please remember this request—send us the returns.

A Last Word before the Election.

This is our last issue before the State Election of next Tuesday, and we, therefore, desire to arouse the attention of all for the last time, to the great importance of the decision to be made at the polls on that day. We have endeavored during the campaign to lay before the people of this county the real truth in regard to the political situation in this country, to give all the light we could to guide the voter in a conscientious exercise of the right of suffrage, to some extent, at least, of fact, rather than to deceive by garbled lies, or wholesale abuse.

Honestly believing that the election of GRANT, and the success of the Republican party, are vitally essential to the life of the country, are necessary to retain the benefits won by the war, and even involve the solution of the problem, whether we, as a people, are capable of self government, we have labored for that end, and have endeavored to present and discuss all the issues that have arisen, to give a full exhibit of the two parties contending, their past history and their present purposes. We have sought to arouse every voter to an interest in the struggle, and an understanding of the importance of the vote he is to cast next Tuesday, and again in November.

Its importance cannot be over-estimated. We are to settle many things permanently and for all time to come, we hope. Shall we have peace and a harmonized country with all its blessings, or shall we have four years of discord, and perhaps conflict? Shall we make sure what we gained by the war, or shall we let slip through our fingers all, for which such heavy sacrifices were made? Shall we have a land of political and social tolerance, where the rights of the lowest will be respected, where a man, whatever his sentiments, may live in security, in the South as freely as in the North, or shall we drift back into the old barbarism and aristocracy of slavery, under which will prevail a complete political and social ostracism in one half of our own country; under which no Northern man can reside in peace at the South, except by the sacrifice of his principles? In short, are we to have a genuine Republic of the people, free throughout all its vast extent, to every citizen, however humble, or shall we see a large part of its territory the theatre of intolerance, and violence, forbidden ground to many of us?

Such, voters, are the points to be settled in the elections, and the decision rests with you. It remains for you to do your duty, and drive home the last nail that will securely hold the principles for which we are contending. Every one of you has an interest at stake, and every one should exercise his right of suffrage on next Tuesday. However distasteful political contests may be to some, at a time like this, the casting of a vote is a duty binding upon every one who lives under this government, and enjoys its privileges.

Let all turn out to the State Election, for that is to virtually decide the contest in November. If we carry Ohio next Tuesday by a rousing majority, the wave that Vermont and Maine have started, will roll on with gathering force and power, till the 3d of November will see the choice of GRANT by an overwhelming vote of the people.

We expect then, every man, to come out, rain or shine, fair weather or foul, and devote the day to the cause. Let the people of old Gallia redeem the record of last year, and by a rousing majority restore the prestige of a county that, during the whole history of the State, has gone right, with scarcely an exception.

“EQUAL TAXATION OF every SPECIES of property!” This is the language of the Democratic platform. How will it work for the poor man? It will tax your horse, your corn, your plows and your hoes, and your axes, your mechanics' tools, your beds in your houses, your saddle with which you ride, and your harness with which you plant your corn, your cooking stoves, and your ovens in which your meals are prepared; the sewing machines of your working women and the cradle in which your baby is rocked to sleep at night; just in the same ratio as the dandy's gold watch, the jockey's handsome buggy, the rich man's silver plate, and the wealthy daughter's piano. How do you like the picture. This is the least to which Democracy invites the laboring man, in the shape of taxation. The Republican policy is “tax luxuries”—make the rich pay the taxes, because they are able to do it, and to let the poor man go free.

Vote for the Republican plan—“tax luxuries”—in the person of JOHN T. WILSON.

The Democrats advertise for “500 wagons”—they would have advertised for “voters,” but they knew they couldn't get them. The “wagons” won't save you. You will hear from the “voters” on Tuesday—their voice will be more potent than “500 wagons.”

We are beginning to find out what was promised to Wade Hampton, at New York, in case of the election of Seymour. It comes out through the rebel press. The Mobile Tribune says:

“One of the very first things we will ask will be the assumption of the Confederate debt. This is precluded by the amendment known as the XIVth article. But the Democracy deny that this amendment has been legally adopted.”

Will you vote to tax the people with the Confederate debt? If not, vote the Republican ticket without a scratch.

“VOTER”—If you believe that the “reconstruction acts of Congress are unconstitutional,” with all your votes for JOHN SANKS.

If you believe that Wade Hampton, Forrest, Stephens & Co. are right, vote for the Democratic ticket. If you believe that the principles of the rebellion were right—vote for MORRIS.

If you are in favor of giving the government back into the hands of the men who inaugurated and carried on the war against the Union, vote the Democratic ticket. If you are opposed to all this—you can only vote as Union men, and cast your ballot for the Union ticket—for JOHN T. WILSON, the staunch friend of the Union and the enemy of treason; the friend of the people and the enemy of oppression; the firm supporter of freedom and the enemy of slavery. LOOK WELL TO YOUR BALLOTS, AND VOTE FOR WILSON, EVANS, HUNT, GARDNER, CLARK AND POOLE.

We heard of one democrat way out in Greenfield, on Sunday, (our friend didn't say whether he called on his friends on Camp-creek or not, but we suppose he did) stirring up the faithful for the big “splurge.” He was after the “wagons.” Spread yourselves.

The Dispatch, in speaking of the Republican procession here last week, says:

There were four wagon loads of negroes, bringing up the rear—appropriate tail to the Mongrel concern.

The Democrats are great on doing mean, dirty tricks, and then charging them upon their opponents. And this is one of them. The whole thing was the work of the Democrats, intending thereby to insult and prejudice their opponents. The young man—their tool for the occasion—who controlled this democratic part of the procession, has always been a democrat, but just now, we understand, for reasons apparent to every one, he claims to be a Grant man. If he is so, his conversion was a very sudden one—more so than that of St. Paul's.

The Republican demonstration at Ironton, last Wednesday, was a glorious affair. The crowd was estimated at 15,000. The procession was grand beyond conception, and as large and imposing as it was grand. It was the most remarkable day ever witnessed in Ironton. You can bet on a good, round Republican majority in Lawrence county.

The official majority for Gov. Chamberlain, in the State of Maine, is 20,519.

WHAT THEY PROPOSE.

The Democratic party, in case of success, propose to overthrow the work of reconstruction already accomplished.

It proposes, if necessary to effect this, to depose the Senate of the United States, by armed violence.

It proposes to remove all restraints from rebels.

It proposes to flood the country with millions of paper money, and so make repudiation necessary.

It proposes to tax all property, necessities as well as luxuries, the laborer as well as the rich man.

Finally, it proposes to give us four more years of discord and conflict. The Republican party, if successful, propose to complete the reconstruction of the South and the restoration of the Union.

It denounces repudiation, and proposes to pay the National debt, and preserve the National honor.

It proposes to remove the burdens of taxation from the laboring classes, and reduce taxation as rapidly as national faith will permit.

It proposes to protect the loyal citizens of the South in their rights. Finally, with GRANT for its leader, it proposes to secure an immediate and a permanent peace to our country.

Voters, which policy will you support? It remains for you to declare which set of principles shall govern this country, for the next four years, and your decision will affect the future prosperity and happiness of us all to an incalculable extent. Let it be for national honor, national prosperity, and a permanent peace.

Look out for a big democratic “splurge.” If a lavish expenditure of money, and hard, persistent labor will do it, they will do it. The leaders are very active—riding day and night over the county, urging the untried to come forth, and bring with them their “wagons,” if they have any. Some of them here, who never worked before, are now sweating and cursing worse than a mole driver. Glad to see it—good for their digestion. Without an occasional incident of this kind, to stir them into activity, they would soon become as feeble and weak as the party has by its contact with treason and traitors.

Republicans, look well to your tickets. See that they have on them the names of all the candidates—WILSON, EVANS, HUNT, GARDNER, CLARK AND POOLE. None others are genuine.

The democracy have advertised for “five hundred wagons.” They are preparing to emigrate to “Salt River,” we judge.

A telegram from Selma, Alabama, in giving an account of a DEMOCRATIC procession, in that city, says: “There were several COLORED clubs in the procession.” How do you like that, democrats of Gallia? All right, we suppose.

Just think of it. Seymour and Blair are altogether acceptable to the whole brood of rebels—are, in fact, their candidates.

Shall loyal men rule what loyal men preserved? This is the great question to be decided in the present contest. Who doubts what the verdict of the American people will be?

Our democratic stumpers say—“every man that lights a match pays a tax to the National government.” Either they are inexcusably ignorant, or willfully knavish. There is no tax on matches—it was repealed last February. Why cannot they tell the truth? Lies always come home to roost.

Spain has witnessed another successful revolution. Queen Isabella has been driven from power, and compelled to seek safety in France. A provisional government has been formed, which is progressing quickly to establish the new order of things.

“POOR” SEYMOUR.

General McClellan Refuses to Support Him.

EXPECTED TO VOTE FOR GRANT.

(Special Telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial.)

New York, October 4.—The Sun announces on authority of prominent Democrats, that General McClellan will take no part in the Presidential campaign. He has written a letter to the committee of arrangements for the great Democratic meeting to-morrow night, positively declining to preside. In his letter he expresses his great respect and admiration for General Grant as an old comrade who deserves high honor. He has made no promise about his vote and influence, but several of his Democratic friends say he will declare for Grant.

He has refused a Democratic ovation in Brooklyn, and only consented to receive the demonstration in his honor last Friday, on condition that it should have no political character. His friends say he was not pleased with the partisan badges and banners displayed, and hence his very brief speech from the hotel balcony. His letter further says he has returned to his profession of engineer, and not to engage in politics. A delegation of Democrats visited him yesterday, requesting his aid in Pennsylvania, but their invitation was respectfully declined.

Vote the Whole Ticket.

Let every GRANT Man on next Tuesday vote a straight ticket. Do not scratch a single name. As you all desire the election of GRANT, and the triumph of the Union party, remember that any splitting of tickets, any voting for an opponent, because he may be a personal favorite, or for any other reason, detracts so much from the unity of the party, and damages more or less the effect the State election will have on the Presidential. This is not a mere contest for small offices, where a voter may select his favorites, without much harm to his principles. It is above all a struggle of principles, and for that reason, the National ticket carries along with it the State, Congressional, and County tickets; that a defection in the support of the most unimportant of these, will, to a greater or less extent, have a bearing on the National contest. We do not fear that any such warning is necessary, but we wish to show the importance of all, in favor of GRANT, holding together throughout.

Bring out the Full Vote.

The backset of last Fall was largely owing to the numbers of our Republican friends, who stayed away from the polls, and did not vote, while their opponents drummed up every man. Let this not be repeated again. Bring out every vote next Tuesday, and we will elect Wilson and our whole ticket by a large majority.

TO THE VOTERS OF GALLIA COUNTY.

On next Tuesday you will be called upon to exercise your rights at the ballot box, as freemen, and by your votes decide who shall serve you in Congress for two years from the 4th of March next. One vote in Congress carries with it the power of more than ninety thousand votes at home; hence the importance of a vote for Congressman cannot be overestimated. The contest at once, becomes one of principle and not of men. If you believe the platform of principles of the Union Republican party to be right, and if faithfully carried out, will be conducive to the best interests of the Republic, at home and abroad, your duty is to vote for JOHN T. WILSON. If you believe that loyal men should control this nation, you must vote for WILSON. He represents the loyal sentiment of the nation, and, if for no other reason, he merits your suffrage. Of the Democratic candidate, Dr. JOHN SANKS, personally, we have nothing to say; politically, he is public property. He is the representative of a party that inaugurated and carried on the late rebellion against the nation. He supported the Northern wing of that same party, which sought by every means in its power to so embarrass the National Government and cripple it as to render the rebellion a success, and dismember the Union; endorsing by his votes and acts the assertion of that same party in 1864, that “the war is a failure,” and supported Vallandigham for Governor, a man sent South on account of his treason. No one denies his unswerving fidelity to this same party, and as such you are to judge him. No such man can be trusted to vote for you in Congress, and it is your duty as freedom loving citizens, as Union men, through the dark hours of the republic, to vote against Dr. JOHN SANKS and for JOHN T. WILSON.

Soldiers, Remember.

That the last democratic legislature disfranchised your comrades, the maimed and crippled inmates of the Soldiers' Home, at Dayton. We know that the democratic leaders, lost to all honor and truth, deny this, but still it is a palpable and glaring fact, notwithstanding their denial, and one that should consign them to everlasting infamy. And we doubt not that it will. No soldier, no friend of the soldier, will vote for a party that carries its bitterness and intolerance so far as to deprive these crippled heroes of their right to vote.

That there may be no mistake about this matter—that the infamy of the transaction may attach to its authors—we give the facts as they stand upon the statute books. The Republican Legislature of 1867 passed an act ceding to the United States certain lands and appurtenances, at Dayton, known as the Soldiers' Home, but with this important proviso: We quote—

“That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the officers, employees and inmates of said asylum, who are qualified voters of this State, from exercising the right of suffrage at all township, county, and State elections, in the township in which the said national asylum shall be located.”

This gave the inmates of the Asylum a right to vote. It may be found on page 149, vol. 64, acts of 1867. Now, the Legislature of 1868—our late democratic Legislature—repealed this just and wise provision, thus denying to our maimed and crippled heroes, at the Dayton Home, the right to vote there. This repealing act may be found on page 208, of last winter's laws.

The thing needs no comment. The bare statement of the facts is sufficient. Soldiers, remember your old comrades at Dayton.

Voters, Remember.

That the democratic organization, known as the “whisky ring,” has, by just estimate, swindled the Government out of $300,000,000. That is one of their legacies to tax payers.

That JOHN T. WILSON is a self-made man, a friend of the masses, and eternally opposed to aristocracy, and that he can be trusted. Vote for WILSON.

That our debt is the fruit of a democratic rebellion to destroy the Government.

That the rebels hope by the election of Seymour and Blair to regain their “lost cause,” which went down on the battle-field.

That GRANT says, “let us have peace,” while Blair proposes a new revolution—a war. Vote for Peace. That the Republicans were the only friends the soldiers had during the war, and are their only true friends now. Vote the Union ticket, that the pensions to the widows and orphans of your dead comrades may be continued.

That the Republican plan of taxation only taxes the luxuries of life, and the incomes of the rich, while the “equal taxation” scheme of the democrats reaches to everything a man has, the poor as well as the rich. Vote for the poor man's system in the person of JOHN T. WILSON.

That the election of GRANT will determine the question, that loyal men shall rule the country they saved, while the election of SEYMOUR would put in rule the rebels who sought its destruction.

That President JOHNSON and Secretary McCULLOCH are democrats, supporters of SEYMOUR and BLAIR, and have charge of the National Treasury, and that the “public debt” has taken another rise. Vote for WILSON and an economical administration.

That GRANT is for peace—SEYMOUR and BLAIR for repudiation and war.

We again caution our friends against fraudulent votes. The democracy polled a large number last year, as the evidence in the Gibson-Tipton contested election case clearly shows; and they will do it again this year if not closely watched. We urge our Republican friends to be active and vigilant in this matter—if thought necessary, have at the polls a strong challenging committee, well posted in the election laws, who will see that none but legal votes are received.

A monster mass meeting of the Union citizens of West Virginia is to be held at Point Pleasant, to-day, Thursday, Oct. 8th. Hon. W. E. STEVENSON, the Republican candidate for Governor, and others, will be present to address the people.

KENTUCKY OUT OF THE UNITED STATES.—A Copperhead inquired of a Radical how many people were at Ironton at the Republican meeting on the 23d inst. The Radical told him fifty millions. Why, said the Copperhead, “that is more people than there is in the United States.” I know that, said the Radical, but the rest came from Kentucky.

In the dark hours of the war, just before the glorious victories of Vicksburg and Gettysburg, HORATIO SEYMOUR sneeringly said: “Where are the victories you promised us?” Now, he would have soldiers and Union men vote for him. Vote for GRANT and COLFAX.

Look well to your tickets, voters, and see that the name of JOHN T. WILSON, the true and tried, and only Union candidate, is printed on them. Show by your votes next Tuesday that Republicans do not sacrifice principle for the best man the Democratic party has. Principles, not men, is the watchword of the great Union Republican party.

Our exchanges give ample evidence that the Republicans all over the land, but especially in Ohio and Indiana, are alive to the importance of the elections about to come off. Every day adds to the strength and enthusiasm of the Union host. One week more of earnest work, faithful work, heroic work, and then victory and joy and peace. Crowd all sails, comrades, and bring the ship of State into a safe harbor!

The democracy want a Brass Band and “five hundred wagons.” They won't do you any good—the decree has gone forth—you have been tried and found wanting, and next Tuesday the tidal wave of public indignation, which swept over Vermont and Maine, will reach Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and carry you back to the solitary shades of “Salt River,” and there leave you, a broken, dismantled wreck.

But OFFER.—We hear of a gentleman in this city, who offers to bet $10,000 that the Republicans will carry Lawrence county; $10,000 that Grant carries the State of Ohio, and $10,000 that Grant will be elected President. All bets to be taken together.—Ironton Register.

Hon. Donald J. Warner, an able lawyer of Litchfield county, Conn., bar, who was one of the delegates to the Tammany Convention, made a speech in Cornwall, Conn., recently, in which he warmly supported Grant and Colfax. He said he preferred peace with Grant to war with Blair.

The Campaign—Meeting at Portsmouth—Large and Enthusiastic.

Correspondence Gallipolis Journal.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 2, 1868.

DEAR JOURNAL.—The mass meeting at this place yesterday was an immense affair and the people full of enthusiasm. At least 12,000 people were present, and no one speaker could reach the outer limits of the vast crowd with his voice.

Mr. Wadsworth, Senator Sherman, Mr. Perry, Bundy and others were present.

The principal speech was made by Mr. Wadsworth, and was an able, eloquent effort. Mr. Sherman followed with a speech over an hour long, in which he eloquently and plainly explained the reconstruction measure of Congress, and showed the humbug of “Pendleton on the finances.” Ohio may well be proud of her noble, honest and worthy Senator, for one more worthy of the confidence of the people can be found than honest John Sherman.

Mr. Perry spoke in the evening to an immense crowd, and cries of “go on,” attested the satisfaction of the people. After the speech of Mr. Perry, an immense and gorgeous torchlight procession, nearly a mile in length, paraded the principal streets. The transparencies were numerous, and the mottoes pertinent to the times. One read, “Sanks' carpet bag is not checked.” “Wilson ever reliable and true to the people.” When the procession reached the market house, a magnificent display of fireworks ended the day's festivities.

Every one, except the democrats, were in excellent spirits, and not an accident or a particle of rowdiness marred the day's proceedings. The Republicans of Portsmouth are entitled to great praise for their open hearted hospitality, in opening wide their doors and inviting friends and strangers to partake of refreshments, in addition to a beautifully supplied and comfortable hall.

The hospitality of the Republicans of Portsmouth is proverbial and everybody well knows it. I met McFarland, of the Tribune, several times, and he was on the go all the time, making everybody feel at home. It is enough to say that Mr. Sherman was a guest of McFarland's to assure you he was well taken care of. Success to him and the Tribune, and may he experience only unbounded prosperity and triumphful success of the glorious principles he so ably advocated.

Mr. Wadsworth was very sorry at his inability to fulfill his appointment at your place. He lost two nights' sleep in trying to get to you, but do all he could he was utterly unable to get to Mayville before Monday morning, which made it impossible for him to reach your place. It was one of those unforeseen circumstances that no man can prevent.

I am more than ever satisfied of the triumph of re-election of Mr. Wilson. Mr. Sherman paid a glowing tribute to his fidelity to the country and to his constituents, and in Sherman's terse language—“it is no time to swap horses.” It is solely a question of principle, and one vote in Congress may do incalculable mischief if cast on the side of the “lost cause.” The signs in the heavens are ominous for good, and John Sanks will have to go under. Let the voters of old Gallia do their duty; stand by the patriotic principles of the Republican party and Wilson's election is an accomplished fact. Remember, “it is no time to swap horses.”

Comrades, to Your Country's Rescue.

Comrades, our country again calls you to her rescue. Are you canvassing your ground you stand upon? Are you gathering with the old Union forces that are being led by your old leaders, that so often led you to victory in the name of the Union, truth, justice and right; or are you gathering with the old leaders of the rebellion; with the men that for four long and bloody years fought to overthrow the Government; with the men here at the North who refused to support their Government in the hour of its trial. Can you hesitate to choose. We think not. But we hear some venders of bogus democracy say, the democrats went the war and helped put down the rebellion. Ah, some of them did, and they made a glorious record—a record that they are not ashamed to refer back to. They are not the men, who cry, oh, don't refer to the past. War democrats, will you support these men, these venders of bogus democracy, who cry don't refer to our record? We know the Southern wing of the democratic party rebelled and undertook to destroy that Government built by our fathers; we know good honest democrats from the North went into the war to put down the rebellion, but we know many staid at home and organized a party in opposition to the Government; in opposition to the war democrats who were out helping to put down the rebellion; they were shielded and encouraged; desertion; almost every act necessary to put down the war they opposed, and cried, “unconstitutional.” When the war ended, oh, how these peace democrats loved the soldier. They even went so far as to nominate some of them to office, where they knew it was impossible to elect them, but where there was a ghost of a chance for an election, they shoved him aside. He must give place to one of the untried. In the year 1867 the Republican Legislature of the State of Ohio made this law: “Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That the disabled soldiers, who have been or shall be received into the National Asylum for disabled volunteer soldiers, and who may be citizens of the United States, shall be held and deemed to have their lawful residence in the county and township in which said asylum is for the time being, or may hereafter be located; and shall be entitled to vote in such township and county, subject to the provisions of existing laws as to the time such residence shall have continued prior to the exercise of the elective franchise.” Now, we ask who could object to such a law. The peace democratic Legislature of last winter did, for they repealed it. The same Legislature disfranchised soldiers, by requiring unconstitutional tests, and yet the same men cry out against test oaths for traitors. They must be free and untrammelled—no restrictions—but for loyal men test oaths are made. Comrades, these are the men that are asking you for your votes; these are the men that now control the democratic party. On the other side are men who are not ashamed of their record, but can point with pride to it; on the other side the mighty Union hosts are falling into line, led by our old invincible leader. The victory must be ours.

ONE ARM.

EWINGTON.

A Democratic transparency in Cincinnati had a description—“Grant, the destroyer of 500,000 lives!” Judge Thurman, who was present, had the good sense to rebuke the men that carried it. He told them that if the American people were going to choose a General, they would choose Grant. Let the little dogs of Democracy make a note of it.—State Journal.
